A husband and wife with opposing views on love get separated and in a struggle for their life they start an affair. But his real life wife is also in to an affair with a rich business tycoon who falls for her. The battle for the two lovers' lives will be fought in court and in a moral police mob. A stepbrother (R. Madhavan) discovers that his sister (Roja) is pregnant and vows to get rid of the child, who he blames for his father's (A. R. Rahman) and mother's (Shobana) deaths. In order to abort the child, the stepbrother kidnaps his sister's boyfriend (Karthik). Thus begins a game of emotions and violence, between the young lovers and the evil stepbrother. The film opens in a village in the 1950s with the birth of an illegitimate child to a barren couple. In school, the child is bullied by a class bully, but when he turns 18, he takes revenge, kills the bully and escapes. His revenge is only partially achieved as a police inspector finds his body and gives the child a funeral. The tale flashes back to present-day Chennai where a doctor (R. Madhavan) conducts an abortion on a pregnant woman. The doctor is in cahoots with an unscrupulous charlatan known as Ramadoss (Sharat Saxena), and is under pressure to complete the job on time. With a friend of hers falling for her and repeatedly breaking her heart, an Indian woman tries to get over her past. With the help of her sister-in-law and her brother, she finds herself falling in love with a guy who's also keeping a few secrets of his own. An emotional Indian woman travels to a foreign land to escape her past. Love is a game of emotions. This film is about a married man's (Karthik) fight for his life. Karthik falls in love with a woman (Ayesha Takia) who is running away from an arranged marriage. A husband (R. Madhavan) agrees to help his wife (Shobana) run away from her parents' house because he feels that the girl (Holliday) she's in love with is about to be married off to someone else. Ramya (Roja) is an aspiring screenwriter who marries Raghu (R. Madhavan 82157476af
